

HTML Seminar description

HTML is what makes the internet go round. It is the main building block for most of the websites seen today. The HTML seminar will demonstrate how to use html editors to create web pages. The seminar will also discuss the different facets of HTML and how to use your resources effectively.

In addition, the HTML seminar will also cover HTML emails. Creating and sending html emails can help you get the word out about something. But there are draw backs to the HTML emails; the seminar will discuss the positives and negatives to sending your emails in HTML format.

Barrington, July 9th, 2009 from 10am – 11:30am
